

Graphic Symbols of the 5 Languages of Appreciation

Visual symbols are an excellent way to remind us of large amounts of information. As a result, we have created a series of graphic symbols for each of the languages of appreciation. Additionally, we have reproduced them in various sizes for different uses. We have had organizations use them on their ID badges, post them in their cubicles or on their doors, and just paste them on their computer – to remind their colleagues of their preferred languages of appreciation.

Feel free to print, copy, cut, laminate and post these however works best for you. We'd love to hear from you on new and different ways there are being utilized.
